Week of 12/2/13	[REDACTED] called Sue, Sue called [REDACTED] back, then met with [REDACTED]	[REDACTED] heard rumor [REDACTED] was sleeping with or had been sleeping with students. He requested that Sue ask [REDACTED] to come into the EO office regarding this and to make sure he understands that 1) this was said about him; and 2) that we have an obligation to discuss with him and ensure he knows our policies.
12/10/13	LE t/c to [REDACTED]	No complaint, do want to inform you of something, can you come by office today? He said he could.

12/10/13	LE o/c [REDACTED]	LE reviewed with [REDACTED] that there was not an EO complaint, yet the Dean brought something to our attention and we needed to bring it to his attention. The Dean told Sue Guenter-Schlesinger that a faculty member was talking to someone who said his ex-wife said he was or had been sleeping with his students. Ms. Eckert explained the University is obligated to look into situations it knew of or should have known of any possible sexual harassment and has the obligation also to ensure faculty know about the Faculty Code of Ethics, prohibiting even consensual romantic relationship. Ms. Eckert asked if he had been or is now romantically or sexually involved with students? [REDACTED] said that this is "patently false and malicious. I have not slept with any of my students in my tenure at Western Washington University which exceeds twenty years." Ms. Eckert provided [REDACTED] with copies of the Faculty Code of Ethics and policy on preventing sexual harassment and Ms. Eckert reviewed EO role, public records, faculty code ethics policy and preventing sexual harassment policy.
